Dear Sir:

Is the attached write-up correct and complete? It has been taken from the 1919 Metropolitan Blue Book - a guide to New York City and vicinity - and if there are any additions or corrections, we would very much like to have them for the 1920 edition, now being compiled.

We are confident you will appreciate the benefit as well as the necessity of having this data complete and authentic and hope to be favored with your kind cooperation in the matter.

Awaiting your response with interest, we are,

Very truly yours,

New York City.

Dear Sir:

We have your letter of April 18, requesting a statement of the more interesting features of our Museum and its exhibits, and are very glad to furnish you with this, which I am enclosing on a separate sheet.

Very truly yours,

Enclosure.

Assistant Curator.

The American Numismatic Society contains the largest, and with the exception of the United States Mint Museum, the only representative collection of coins and medals open to public inspection without charge.

Special features of the exhibits are the collection of American gold coins, European silver coins of dollar size, and South-American coins. The Museum also contains by far the most complete collection in the world of Chinese coins.

There is also a remarkable display of the ~~Foreign~~ ^{of Foreign} Insignia Orders, and American and European war medals and decorations, including specimens of the Congressional Medal, the Distinguished Service Cross, the Victoria Cross and the French War Cross.

Dear Sir:-

Thank you for yours of the 7th. I have made a very slight correction to the insertion in the Automobile Blue Book. I think it covers the situation admirably, and we very much appreciate your giving so satisfactory a description of our collection.

Very respectfully yours,

Secretary.
